SAFETY POLICY

POLICY STATEMENT

Goodenough Services are a service company employed by a third party to fit their dispenser units in Europe wide client sites. The same health and safety requirements apply to all individuals whose services are retained by Goodenough Services.

Goodenough Services will ensure as far as is reasonably practicable the health, safety and welfare of all their employees & sub contractors. The company will also ensure as far as is reasonably practicable the health and safety of any visitors to the site and of any people who may be affected by their work.

To achieve this aim the company will, insofar as is reasonably practicable, comply with all legislation, regulations, safe systems of work and approved codes of practice, thus creating a healthier and safer environment in which to work.

All employees & sub contractors are required to take reasonable care of their own health and safety and of any other persons who may be affected by their work. They must also co-operate with their employer in observing the companies safety procedures and safe systems of work.
